THE POCHMANN-SCHULTZ GERMAN-AMERICANA BIBLIOGRAPHIES

By Rosalyn Breitenwischer, Manchester, Michigan

For twelve years, Henry August Pochmann checked library holdings in the Southeast and Midwest U.S. for materials which revealed the German influence on the American lifestyle. This was long before computerized library catalogs and other technological advances which today can bring such information to one's lap. Nevertheless, his remarkable list formed the base for the 1953 compilation, Bibliography of German Culture in America to 1940, published by the Regents of the University of Wisconsin. The 13,000 titles cited include all areas of the German presence on the American scene, from religion and politics, to the fine arts, performing arts, folk arts and customs, immigration, German-American societies and organizations, and genealogy and family history.

In 1982, Arthur R. Schultz published a revised and corrected edition of Pochmann's work with an addendum of 4,900 more titles. For the genealogist, it cites many German-American family histories entered by family name in the main alphabet.

Then in 1984, Schultz published a continuation, German-American Relations and German Culture in America: A Subject Bibliography, 1941-1980, published as had the revision, by Kraus International Publications. Capitalizing on the then available bibliographic retrieval systems, it contains 20,000 titles in two volumes with broadened geographic scope. One section has a four page list of references on researching German genealogy and a 135 page alphabetical list of German-American family histories produced during that time period. An example of one such entry is the Liskow Family Papers, 1851-1894, housed at the Bentley Historical Library in Ann Arbor. A section about Michigan includes works on German-American church history, life and culture, organizations, and the German-American influence on the State's history.

Together these bibliographies lead one to materials providing a comprehensive overview of the German impact on America. To view them, the bibliographies may be ordered from Salt Lake City on microfiche through the LDS Family History Center (Book no. 973 f23ph). Also, print editions are in the holdings of the University of Michigan Hatcher Library (Call no. 21361.G37 P74).

STRAYS

Ann Arbor Argus, 9 Jan 1885

Funeral Services over the remains of Mrs. M.E. Terry who died at New Chillicothe, Kansas, were held at the Webster Congregational Church last week, Wednesday.

Mr. J. Scott, who recently removed from Dexter to Mayfield, in southern Kansas...writes...January 1, that the thermometer there indicated 8 degrees below zero. (County News)

FROM OUR READERS

Turner ancestors in Yorkshire, England, 1833

"God's will be done. Drowned in River Ouse, December 26, 1833, after singing praises of our Savior in neighboring townships."

This engraving on a huge (4'x5') granite tombstone in Stillingfleet, Yorkshire; in the churchyard of St. Helen's, is followed by a list of 10 names, including, to our surprise, two Turner ancestors. With them were four Spencers, a Barstow, and others.

We didn't expect the narrow winding roads leading from York to Stillingfleet to be so harrowing to travel, nor did we imagine that the church would be a 12th century jewel, beautifully maintained. As novice genealogists, we learned what you experts have long known: the thrill of discovering surprising and dramatic family history. From Mary Kincaid, Ann Arbor, Michigan

Civil War correspondent named

In my search for the location of Camp Mizner, I went to the Bentley Library, and asked to see letters written by members of the Michigan 14th Infantry. I read part of the file of William Montague Ferry, who was the quartermaster. His first letters were datelined Camp Mizner, but he didn't happen to mention where the camp was. As the regiment was leaving Ypsilanti on April 17, 1862, William Ferry wrote his wife several letters. On April 21, 1862, "Near Paducah," he informed his wife that he had written a letter to the newspaper about the situation and signed it "ODANA." You may have noticed that name listed in the newspaper articles in Family History Capers, volume 18, page 25. It appears that he wrote at least 6 times, all in 1862, from April 19 to July 8.

I was delighted to learn his identification. We have only 23 more authors to identify before we know them all.

You may not find what you set out looking for but it will always be interesting. From Marcia McCrary, Ypsilanti, Michigan
